This new feature has been developed by 1v1 Technologies, a motion capture technology provider based in California. "Together with EA, 1v1 Technologies was able to engineer the technology to work with FIFA gameplay," said John Johnson, 1v1 Technologies' Co-Founder and Co-CEO. "With FIFA the world's leading sports video game franchise, we could not be more excited to show our cutting edge technology to millions of football fans and fans of EA's FIFA franchise." The technology is being used for the "Matchday Mode" in FIFA 22, where fans can step into the shoes of a real-life player and experience the action from multiple camera angles during the course of a single game. "To collect the data to power the technology is only possible by having a team of professionals dedicated to filming matches over and over," said Marc Koska, Lead Gameplay Engineer at EA SPORTS. "Seeing the results of the new technology and the technical advancements that 1v1 Technologies has made on behalf of the FIFA community is absolutely incredible and we are very proud to share these results with you today." "Our goal with FIFA is to capture the gameplay from the players in the most authentic manner possible," said Colin Thomler, Lead Gameplay Engineer at EA SPORTS. "With the power of the new technology, we can now bring real-life player movement to the pitch, something that allows the player to step into a real-life role of interacting with the ball and other players." HyperMotion Technology and the introduction of "Matchday Mode" are available now in the latest version of FIFA 22. FIFA Season Ticket owners can download the update beginning today, and the expansion is available for purchase as a standalone piece of content for those who purchase FIFA Ultimate Team.

This year's FIFA is the biggest and most realistic football game ever with enhanced visuals that deliver the most lifelike experience, bringing the beautiful game to life with top-of-the-line graphics. Lifelike Player Ball Physics With dozens of tweaks and refinements, the player's ball now behaves more like a real ball and will react differently depending on where you kick it. The ball reacts to the type of surface, elements and players and can change direction on you, complementing the star-studded cast of your own team and creating more exciting, more realistic play. Real Team Tactics Every player on every team responds to the tactic you use. Top managers even make bold substitutions based on real-life tactics from the opening whistle to the final whistle, including "Schemes, Timing, and Selection". Authentic Digital Teammates FIFA introduces new AI (artificial intelligence) enhancements that give real-life human-like behaviour to your teammates. A new generation of computer-controlled teammates continuously works alongside your players in real-time, making for a more realistic, more in-depth and a more enjoyable game. In addition, the AI now mimics how well you play the game, with every teammate's rating changing throughout the game depending on your performance. Intelligent Goalkeepers Improved goalkeeper intelligence now means goalkeepers are more aware of the ball and will dive in more to

FIFA means football, and it means everything in the world of sports, all over the globe. In FIFA, you will experience it all: the tradition-infused feel of a European club, the power and pace of the English Premier League, and the thrill of the World Cup. Choose your favorite club and your favourite sport, build a team, play head-to-head matches against players from all over the world, and bet on the best players. Also included in FIFA you find all official international championships in association football - from the small to the grandest. There are 204 national teams in FIFA. You can play as any of them. Features From European club competitions, to small cup tournaments, we've given the gameplay of FIFA 22 a new level of polish by pioneering new features and making significant refinements across our core gameplay mechanics and game flow. We've been hard at work improving the game's AI, creating a more authentic and enjoyable set of tactics for managers, and more challenging, intelligent and nuanced refereeing decisions. In addition, we've added several new features to FIFA, including a new Career Mode, Revamped Pro Clubs Mode, Story Mode, a new Do-Or-Die Mode, and much more. New Features
