I am wanting to learn Swift and I would like to use the Swift Package Manager, but I am having problems getting it to run without actually installing Xcode on OSX. I am using a computer that has OSX installed, but it's not installed or updated on this computer. I do have a good internet connection and the computer does have a good internet connection. I am using a GitHub account, if that makes a difference. Here's the output I get when I run the swift package manager:

```
/Library/Developer/CommandLineTools/usr/bin/swift package -v usage: swift package [-h | -help] [-v | --verbose] [--force-delete] [--no-dep-check] [--prefix] [--] [--output OUTPUT_FILE] [--output-file OUTPUT_FILE]
